You can add your suggestions to the right. Trusted by millions, this is the best calculator for Android! It's a worldwide famous tool for calculation, which is suitable for daily use or entertainment. It supports basic arithmetic such as addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, and more complex things such as calculations of compound interest and mutual funds. It has two modes for more comfortable operation. In addition, it has a feature of statistics to compare, such as comparing two different units to estimate the relationship between them, or comparing one variable to a constant to check the variance of the whole formula. - Supported operations: basic operations, mathematics with double, triple, and fraction; calculation of compound interest; ratio, proportion, and absolute value; interconnection, compound, and combined ratio; ratio of proportion; derivatives, sequential ratio, and typical exponent-function; normal distribution analysis; statistics; and visual data display- Support for multiple-entry and automatic editing- The number of calculations can be saved- Favorites can be set- Supports the calculation of the main mathematical functions and formulas The three of the most important parts of an interview: The first thing you should do, when you are on a job interview, is to imagine the subject of the interview. You want to do this carefully and detailed, but you should focus on the most important points. Make a list of the questions that will be asked, and write down the most important information in response to them. On the resume, highlight the main positions that you have had in your career (most of the time, they will be quite different from those of the positions that you have applied for). Describe the main responsibilities of the previous position and how you have performed them. Since interviews are mostly about convincing the person who is looking at you, you want to highlight the qualities that make you the most suitable for the job. When you apply for a job, you should be prepared to answer all the questions that are likely to be asked. The most important thing is to be honest and direct, but remember that it is not always possible to be direct. In any case, you want to be confident and listen to what the interviewer says. A well-prepared answer will help you focus and ensure that you impress the interviewer.
