It has some info about the company and the event, and it also says something like "we highly suggest you go to XYZ if you are interested." I would like to do something similar for my iPhone app: for example, if I invite people to sign up for my app, I would like the email to have the following: It would have an embedded link for their app. It would also have a link that lets people jump back to my app. It would include a little bit of info about the app (short
