(recognizing that a district court's failure to address the defendant's ability to repay restitution does not "constitute[] a clear or obvious error"); United States v. Palomba, 31 F.3d 1121, 1127 (7th Cir.1994) (holding that a district
defendant's ability to pay restitution under 18 U.S.C. § 3663(g)(2)(B) was not plain error where the defendant did not raise the issue at the hearing); United States v. Rivera-Feliciano, 930 F.2d 951, 954 (1st Cir. 1991) (holding that the district court's failure to make a finding on the defendant's ability to pay restitution was harmless error where the district court had addressed the issue of restitution at sentencing). To be sure, the district court did not address Carty's ability to pay restitution. Nonetheless, that failure was harmless error as to Carty because the record shows that the district court considered Carty's ability to pay at sentencing.

Furthermore, Carty does not allege that he had any legitimate employment opportunities at the time he pleaded guilty to the bank robbery. Finally, the record shows that Carty could have sought further work authorization through the Bureau of Prisons.

Accordingly, Carty did not suffer a clear or obvious error in the district court's calculation of his restitution payment schedule. III. For the foregoing reasons, the judgments of the district court are AFFIRMED. NOTES
