Millions of Photoshop customers share Photoshop files for review and input from stakeholders every day. In this release, we're introducing Share for Review (beta) to make incorporating review feedback into your designs much faster and easier without ever leaving the application. Nice review but after upgrading to LR5.2 RC I think performance is better than with LR4. Working on a project with 1500 D800 NEFs my impression is that the smart previews increase speed while working in the Developer mode - in Lib. mode however everything slows because the JPEG previews are used. So far I am not sure how the Jpegs are used as previews when you have the smart previews (DNGs) available. But have to say that I am happy with 5.2 RC although I will say bye-bye to LR the day they make it part of CC.

Regards! Sren To calculate the overall star rating and percentage breakdown by star, we don't use a simple average. Instead, our system considers things like how recent a review is and if the reviewer bought the item on Amazon. It also analyzed reviews to verify trustworthiness. I just saw from the 'Photographer's Corner' forum that there are plans to release LR6 in the near future. Perhaps that will help somewhat but I do believe that there is still a lot of work to be done to increase the speed of this product so that photographers don't have to deal with it all day. I use it as a camera RAW converter and also as a Digital Negative service. I am impressed with it but these areas remain need of improvement. The latest version tried to make use of the NVIDIA Quadro chips which provided some speed improvements but the application performance remained relatively the same as before. I'd much rather just have it get faster!
