In the 60-second TV spot, Trump appears to be touting the upcoming 2018 midterms, stressing the results of the upcoming midterm elections before calling out his former "mentor," former FBI Director James Comey. "There are a lot of great candidates and we have two great races happening," Trump says in the ad, which prominently features images of a blue background with a beaming Trump before a backdrop of the Statue of Liberty and the American flag. The president goes on to say: "Don't believe the polls. Believe me. Don't believe the media. They're all fake news." The ad is the second time Trump has put forth the slogan, which echoes his campaign launch rally where he declared: "I'm running for office because the American dream is dying, there's no two ways about that," and promised to "fight like hell for those whose dreams are dying, for those who are struggling." The ad is titled "The Only Thing We Want Is to Keep America Great." The spot will air on CNN, Fox News and The CW at 6:00PM ET. Google Chromecast update is out Approximately 4 hours ago, Google released an update to the Android and iOS Google Chromecast apps. This update allows people to more easily cast your favorite music, videos, and photos to any room with HDMI ports that have Chromecast devices connected. This update was released as Google prepares to announce the Chromecast-powered device which is said to be launching at Google I/O next week. The update is likely part of that announcement, and you can expect it to be a long day for any Chromecast and Android device owners. Since Google has promised to bring some of the Google
